In most locations, you have to choose between being close to everything and living in peace. Here, you don't.

At Palmeras 25, daily life is quite literally just a few steps away.

Leave through one entrance and you are surrounded by restaurants, terraces, shops and the energy of Benalmádena. Leave through the other and the atmosphere changes completely: quieter, more private and far more discreet.

Both entrances connect directly to the parking area.

A major supermarket is only a short walk away. A padel club sits just across the road. The Mediterranean is approximately 400 metres from your door.

You can shop, train, dine out, walk to the beach or take care of almost everything you need without relying on the car.

Then come home and leave the rest of the world outside....
