There is something especially appealing about a ground-floor home where indoor and outdoor living come together so naturally. With its private garden, terraces and wonderful views towards both the sea and the mountains, this two-bedroom apartment in Casares Costa offers a relaxed setting in which to enjoy life on the Costa del Sol.

Some homes are all about the space inside. Here, the outdoor areas are just as much a part of everyday life.

The apartment is arranged on one level and offers two generous double bedrooms and two bathrooms. The
